Dear Parents and Families,

As Term One draws to a close, we extend our thanks to all children, parents and families for the learning, discussion, engagement and cooperation that has been demonstrated throughout the past ten weeks. We particularly thank all SFX staff who continually give so tirelessly and generously of their time and effort in ensuring the best educational outcomes for your children.

As the season of Easter approaches, we are reminded of the events that led up to the crucifixion of Jesus and the glory associated with Jesus' resurrection on Easter Sunday.

Student - Led Conferences at SFX

Your child(ren) will be showcasing their schoolwork and discussing learning goals with you through Student-Led Conferences. During Student – Led Conferences, your children will lead the discussion with you about their school work, while teachers will help direct conversation and answer questions you may have.

These conferences are scheduled for Week 2 & 3 next term, on the following dates:

1. Tuesday 27th April 2021
2. Wednesday 28th April 2021
3. Wednesday 5th May 2021

These meetings will last for 20 minutes and we encourage all families to attend. Children must attend these meetings!

We have several goals for holding conferences using this format:

- For parents – we hope that you will get to see rather than simply being told about your child's progress.
- For students – we hope students will take more responsibility for their learning.
- For teachers – we want teachers to have more meaningful and impactful conferences with you.
- For all – we want to maximize our time together, create ways to partner with one another to support student success.

WHY STUDENT LED CONFERENCES?

THE OT TIMES

EDITION 3

Next term in the OT Times... calming activities at home!

KWS CORNER

This weeks key word signs are Happy and Easter! I hope everyone has a lovely school break.

Happy

Tap palms of flat hands together in small circles twice.

Easter

With pointer and middle fingers extended draw a cross on the back of wrist; first from wrist to finger tips and then across hand.

Should I buy my child a weighted blanket?

OT's get really excited when we see products once considered to be "disability" or a special needs product go mainstream. It usually means the costs of the items reduce making it much more affordable for families, they're easier to obtain and it can reduce the stigma of using or needing different products too.

However, the prescription of a weighted blanket should be performed by an OT. There are guidelines about maximum weights of blankets, how long they should be used and how long between uses to prevent kids becoming "used" to the blanket and rendering it useless. There are also some medical contraindications that mean that a weighted blanket shouldn't be used at all as it could compromise health and safety. An OT can safely help you to make this assessment and put a plan in place for the use of a weighted blanket.

So in short, no, please do not buy your child a weighted blanket without expert advice and an implementation plan from your trusted OT.

School Closure Days

Please note that in Term 2 we have set aside two days as a School Closure Days for Staff Professional Development.

- Monday 19th April School will be closed as a Staff Professional Development Day
- Monday 17th May School will be closed as a Staff Professional Development Day

I hope that you all have a safe and enjoyable school holiday and are able to share Easter with family and friends. I thank you all for your continued support and look forward to working with you again next term.

Have a great week!

Yours sincerely,

Paul Bissinella
Principal

Catherine McAuley

The simplest and most practical lesson I know...is to resolve to be good today, but better tomorrow. Let us take one day only in hands, at a time, merely making a resolve for tomorrow, thus we may hope to get on taking short, careful steps, not great strides.

THIS WEEK'S GOSPEL - Sunday 28th March 2021

PALM SUNDAY OF THE PASSION OF THE LORD YEAR B

Gospel

Mk 14:1 – 15:47

The passion of our Lord Jesus Christ according to Mark

N It was two days before the Passover and the feast of Unleavened Bread, and the chief priests and scribes were looking for a way to arrest Jesus by some trick and have him put to death. For they said,

C It must not be during the festivities, or there will be a disturbance among the people.

N Jesus was at Bethany in the house of Simon the leper; he was at dinner when a woman came in with an alabaster jar of very costly ointment, pure nard. She broke the jar and poured the ointment on his head. Some who were there said to one another indignantly,

C Why this waste of ointment? Ointment like this could have been sold for over three hundred denarii and the money given to the poor;

N and they were angry with her. But Jesus said,

J Leave her alone. Why are you upsetting her? What she has done for me is one of the good works. You have the poor with you always and you can be kind to them whenever you wish, but you will not always have me. She has done what was in her power to do; she has anointed my body beforehand for its burial. I tell you solemnly, wherever throughout all the world the Good News is proclaimed, what she has done will be told also, in remembrance of her.

N Judas Iscariot, one of the Twelve, approached the chief priests with an offer to hand Jesus over to them. They were delighted to hear it, and promised to give him money; and he looked for a way of betraying him when the opportunity should occur.

On the first day of Unleavened Bread, when the Passover lamb was sacrificed, his disciples said to him,

C Where do you want us to go and make the preparations for you to eat the Passover?

The Gospel of the Lord

REFLECTION by Greg Sunter

Gospel Reflection

By the time the gospel accounts came to be written, it was more than 35 years after the death of Jesus. The Gospel of Mark is now very widely held to have been the first of the four gospels, written in about the year 70 CE. One of the reasons for the writing of the gospels was the fact that those who had walked and talked with Jesus were becoming old and dying. There was a sense of capturing the story before the last eye witnesses were gone. This is very evident in the Passion narrative from the gospel of Mark. One can almost hear an elderly voice dictating the events: 'then this happened ...; then he said ...; then we all thought ...' Like so much of this particular gospel, there is very little embellishment. It's like an old time detective show, 'Just give us the facts!' The gospel of Mark presents the story of the Passion as a sequence of events with little commentary or theological reflection. (That is partly why it lends itself so well to being read by several voices.)

One of the best examples that the gospel is a straightforward recollection of events is the inclusion of the scene in Gethsemane when the young man ran away naked. No storyteller would create such a bizarre, unexplained event. There is no explanation of who the young man is, why he was wearing only a loincloth, nor why the armed men tried to seize hold of him. It is reported in exactly the same style as the rest of the story – very matter-of-fact. The presence of the young man – both in Gethsemane and in the gospel – has puzzled scholars for many years, yet if nothing else, it provides evidence of the way in which this Passion narrative was transmitted from lived experience. to memory. to oral account. to written gospel.

Called to action through Gospel values and Mercy tradition we will enrich thinking, expand horizons and pursue excellence!

Gospel Focus – This man was a son of God

By the time we have stood and listened to this lengthy Passion narrative, the listener may have started to wilt by the time we get to the death of Jesus. Yet the gospel writer keeps one of the most important messages for this moment. As Jesus dies, a centurion standing by utters the inspired words, 'In truth, this man was a son of God.' Famously played by John Wayne in the movie, The Greatest Story Ever Told, the centurion is the voice of the gentile – the non-Jew – representing all those throughout the world who will recognise the truth of Jesus' life and purpose.

Have you thought? Passion of the Passion

The Passion narrative is very aptly named. The emotion and power of this story is nothing short of passionate. The gospel writer's style of fast paced, unadorned factual narrative is a very effective way of helping the reader/listener to engage in the story. It is, after all, the first half of the most important Christian story – finished off by the resurrection that is celebrated on Easter Sunday. It is easy to see why this stark, narrative style was embellished and expanded upon by the later gospel writers and yet it is perhaps the more passionate for the lack of explanation and theologising.

Living the Gospel – Before the cock crows

Peter is an interesting character in the gospels. He is one of the first of the disciples to be called; Jesus changes his name and places great trust in him; he is witness to the most significant moments of Jesus' life; he is able to profess his faith in Jesus as the Christ and yet it is he who denies even knowing Jesus. We might have thought that Peter was Jesus' most loyal and faithful follower, yet it is he who can't stand up and claim that he was a follower of Jesus. Is it any wonder that it is difficult for us today sometimes?

A beginning point for discussion of this week's Gospel with children:

Q. Why is the detailed retelling of this Passion narrative such an important part of the Christian tradition?

Q. What emotions might Jesus have been feeling when he prayed at Gethsemane?

Q. What message was conveyed to humankind by Jesus' death?

Q. What is significant about the group of people who were with Jesus at the very end of his life?

Q. What 'moment' of the story can you identify with and apply to your own life?

Greg Sunter has worked in Catholic Education (Brisbane) for many years, most recently as a member of the Religious Education team and Mission and Formation team. He has extensive experience of praying with young people and forming others to lead prayer with young people. He is the author of books on adolescent faith, is a regular speaker at youth and evangelisation conferences, and is a retreat and reflection facilitator and presenter. His areas of interest include religious education, theology, scripture, spirituality, Catholic ethos, prayer, and ministry with young people.

Managing anxiety before it becomes a problem

The attached article gives us all a few great tips on how to manage anxiety.

- *Recognise anxiety triggers
 - *Know how it shows
 - *Give kids tools to manage their states
 - *Help kids to understand how anxiety works
- We hope the suggestions may be useful.

Term 2 topic in our SEL (Social and Emotional Learning) sessions will be: Personal Strengths

Children and young people need a vocabulary to help them recognise and understand strengths and positive qualities in themselves and others. Research states the importance of identifying and using individual strengths which in turn promotes student wellbeing, positive behaviour and academic achievement.

Children will be given many opportunities to build vocabulary when discussing personal, social and ethical challenges.
